

Unit 23: PAST CONTINUOUS

This formation usually means ‘past — for a limited period of time’. We use the past tense of the auxiliary verb be (Unit 17) before the -ing form of the lexical verb (Unit 3).

1 Formation (be + -ing form)

a STATEMENTS

EXAMPLES: I was working all yesterday morning.
He wasn't doing anything.
The climate was changing at this time.
They were not enjoying themselves.

b QUESTIONS

EXAMPLES: What were you doing at 9:45 last night?
Where was he going?
Who was helping him?

NOTICE: For spelling problems with the -ing form of the verb, look at Appendix 6.

2 Use

a PAST ACTIVITY OR TEMPORARY HABIT

EXAMPLES: Between 10 and 11 last night, I was reading.
They were getting up early that month.

b BACKGROUND ACTIVITY IN THE PAST

EXAMPLES: She was having a bath when the phone rang.
By the time they reached the stadium, the players were already coming onto the field.

c ARRANGEMENTS IN THE PAST

EXAMPLES: Everybody was excited because they were leaving for Paris the next day.
